

REBIRTH

To rebirth our nation, we must recommit. Recommitment, is to the reason to enter into a unification, the most essential aspect of the fundamental truth of our common experience, we all know as the yearning, to live free, as self-conscious, Sovereign Beings, with an inherent need for living life within the state of liberty, allowing for a personal pursuit of Happiness, for which, as individuals, we must harmonize, to establish a common good, which allows for the perception of what we will recognize and also commit to, as a union of states, yielding the sovereignty of this union, as a United States, with its sovereign body, being collectively recommitted to our statures citizenship, yielding this body as,

“We The People”
